The first task - finding articles that are of high quality (a topic chosen by the student)

In this first assignment, students must have a topic that they choose and announce the same as other students.

Next, they should find two or three articles when opening in the last 3-5 years in this field, which can claim that these works can be of good quality. Note that the term refers to the period of 3 to 5 years from now, and articles newer than the last 3 years are also accepted.

In order to show the high quality of these articles, they should collect evidence and documents according to the points mentioned in the classroom. To prove their claim, it is necessary that they cannot receive the image of their websites and documents with the description of the work in a documented report.

Note that your opinions and methods of work and conducting the investigation (including the diversity and correctness of the collected documents) will be graded.

Prepare your report in the form of a MS-Word or PDF file and upload it to the exercise section of the LMS website.

good luck